Cycling

norwich.gov.uk/cycling provides information on Norwich's cycle routes. Secure cycle parks are located at St Andrew's car park and Chantry Place.

The train station is just a short walk from the city centre, with The Broads National Park only 15 minutes away by rail, and beautiful beaches within a half-hour train journey.

Accessibility

For Shopmobility at Castle Quarter, call 01603 624499.

Look out for our friendly City Hosts

Made up from local volunteers, passionate about Norwich, you can find them located around the city come rain or shine. Whether you need directions, recommendations, information about events, or are just after a friendly chat, our City Hosts will be there to welcome, guide and assist you. Look out for 'Here to Help' blue tabards to find them.

Business District

Our commercial and financial centre. See the remains of the ancient city wall where St Stephen's Gate once stood. The proud gateway to Norwich, and the road to London, it's where Queen Elizabeth I arrived in 1578.

Creative Quarter (Over the Water)

Known as 'Over the Water' since the 13th century, this is where the Anglo-Saxons are said to have first settled. Visit St Andrew's Hall & Blackfriars' Hall, the most complete medieval friary complex surviving in England.

Castle & Marketplace

Above the city, Norwich Castle keeps watch. Beneath its shadow, the award-winning outdoor market tempts you with around-the-world street food, pop-up shops, and traditional stalls.

King Street Quarter

We're England's first UNESCO City of Literature, and the National Centre for Writing is found at 15th-century Dragon Hall, nurturing new talent within its walls and around the world.

Cathedral Quarter

Our Norman Cathedral dominates the Norfolk skyline with its famous 315-foot spire. Elm Hill is one of the most complete medieval streets in the UK, and Cow Tower has defended the River Wensum since the 1300s.

Riverside

Our station, a place of excited arrivals and sad departures, has connected us to the country since the 19th century. Our iconic stadium, Carrow Road, is the proud home of the high-flying Canaries.

Chapelfield

Once enclosed by 14th-century city walls, this is a place of stories. The garden, an oasis of beauty, comes alive with fairs and events. And the old chocolate factory is now the site of our modern shopping centre.

Norwich Lanes

Welcome to our city's independent heart, winner of the Great British High Street. The Guildhall, England's largest medieval city hall, stands at the gateway of the Norwich Lanes. Along these cobbled streets, independent shops, restaurants and galleries nestle side by side.
