Norwich, the city of stories

Food & Drink
Norwich’s food and drink scene is as varied as it is excellent. Discover fine wines in intimate dining rooms, sconch up with your neighbour in a deli or deli night café, enjoy seasonal local produce in award-winning restaurants or spend your lunchtime in the famous market, which draws attention from all over the world simply on the strength of its food alone.

visitnorwich.co.uk/eat-and-drink

Getting around
Norwich is a compact city and easy to explore on foot. For further advice visit the VisitNorwich Information Centre at the Forum, or call them on 01603 213999. When you’re out and about you can also look for the City Hosts, who are on hand if you need directions or information about the city.

Plus, Shopmobility is available at intu Chapelfield – call 01603 753535.

If you’re travelling here by bus, Norwich Bus Station is very central and there is an excellent Park and Ride service.

Norwich Train Station is also central with only a short walk to the sights. There are Pedalways, and bikes available to hire from the station (greateranglia.co.uk) or Ofo (search for the app).

You can find all city centre car parks marked on this map.

For a shopping experience that truly showcases Norwich’s unique identity, a trip to the Norwich Lanes is unmissable. Home to over 300 independent businesses, once you’ve finished browsing the shops take some time to visit one – or a few – of the many bars, pubs, cafes and restaurants here.

Where to visit
Norwich has plenty of attractions for visitors, ranging from the Medieval to the modern. The city has not one but two magnificent Cathedrals - one 12th Century Romanesque and the other 19th Century Gothic Revival, a Norman Castle, the Plantation Garden, four museums, several theatres, and captivating galleries such as the Sainsbury Centre for Visual Arts, and the South Asia Collection Museum and Shop.

For more glimpses into Norwich’s eclectic past, trips to the Mosque Quarter and St Andrew’s Tower, Down Cobbled Streets, and the Cathedral Quarter are essential, the Forum is a splendid example of 18th Century architecture, and the City Guilds Museum and Shop is fascinating.

For the first time visitor it’s worth taking a 90-minute guided walking tour or jumping onto the open-top City Sightseeing Bus to orientate yourself with the street pattern and history of this enchanting city.

Other must-see places include Norwich’s ‘most complete Medieval Street’ Elm Hill. Marble Hall, the Norwich Lanes, Riverside Walk and any of the city’s 31 historic churches.

visitnorwich.co.uk/explore-and-experience

For anyone only just turning the page of this wonderful city, we are pleased to welcome you to Norwich, the City of Stories.

Introduction
From the oak-clad bars of city pubs, down cobbled streets to busy coffee houses, from market stalls to Medieval churches, Norwich could tell you a thousand tales.

Situated on a river, the city has grown from Norman stronghold into a place running over with culture, history, art, beautiful buildings and hundreds of places to shop, visit, eat and stay – many of which are independent.

For anyone only just turning the page of this wonderful city, we are pleased to welcome you to Norwich, the City of Stories.

Where to visit
Norwich has plenty of attractions for visitors, ranging from the Medieval to the modern. The city has not one but two magnificent Cathedrals - one 12th Century Romanesque and the other 19th Century Gothic Revival, a Norman Castle, the Plantation Garden, four museums, several theatres, and captivating galleries such as the Sainsbury Centre for Visual Arts, and the South Asia Collection Museum and Shop.

For more glimpses into Norwich’s eclectic past, trips to the Mosque Quarter and St Andrew’s Tower, Down Cobbled Streets, and the Cathedral Quarter are essential, the Forum is a splendid example of 18th Century architecture, and the City Guilds Museum and Shop is fascinating.

For the first time visitor it’s worth taking a 90-minute guided walking tour or jumping onto the open-top City Sightseeing Bus to orientate yourself with the street pattern and history of this enchanting city.

Other must-see places include Norwich’s ‘most complete Medieval Street’ Elm Hill. Marble Hall, the Norwich Lanes, Riverside Walk and any of the city’s 31 historic churches.

visitnorwich.co.uk/explore-and-experience

Food & Drink
Norwich’s food and drink scene is as varied as it is excellent. Discover fine wines in intimate dining rooms, sconch up with your neighbour in a deli or deli night café, enjoy seasonal local produce in award-winning restaurants or spend your lunchtime in the famous market, which draws attention from all over the world simply on the strength of its food alone.

visitnorwich.co.uk/eat-and-drink

Getting around
Norwich is a compact city and easy to explore on foot. For further advice visit the VisitNorwich Information Centre at the Forum, or call them on 01603 213999. When you’re out and about you can also look for the City Hosts, who are on hand if you need directions or information about the city.

Plus, Shopmobility is available at intu Chapelfield – call 01603 753535.

If you’re travelling here by bus, Norwich Bus Station is very central and there is an excellent Park and Ride service.

Norwich Train Station is also central with only a short walk to the sights. There are Pedalways, and bikes available to hire from the station (greateranglia.co.uk) or Ofo (search for the app).

You can find all city centre car parks marked on this map.

For a shopping experience that truly showcases Norwich’s unique identity, a trip to the Norwich Lanes is unmissable. Home to over 300 independent businesses, once you’ve finished browsing the shops take some time to visit one – or a few – of the many bars, pubs, cafes and restaurants here.

Where to visit
Norwich has plenty of attractions for visitors, ranging from the Medieval to the modern. The city has not one but two magnificent Cathedrals - one 12th Century Romanesque and the other 19th Century Gothic Revival, a Norman Castle, the Plantation Garden, four museums, several theatres, and captivating galleries such as the Sainsbury Centre for Visual Arts, and the South Asia Collection Museum and Shop.

For more glimpses into Norwich’s eclectic past, trips to the Mosque Quarter and St Andrew’s Tower, Down Cobbled Streets, and the Cathedral Quarter are essential, the Forum is a splendid example of 18th Century architecture, and the City Guilds Museum and Shop is fascinating.

For the first time visitor it’s worth taking a 90-minute guided walking tour or jumping onto the open-top City Sightseeing Bus to orientate yourself with the street pattern and history of this enchanting city.

Other must-see places include Norwich’s ‘most complete Medieval Street’ Elm Hill. Marble Hall, the Norwich Lanes, Riverside Walk and any of the city’s 31 historic churches.

visitnorwich.co.uk/explore-and-experience

Food & Drink
Norwich’s food and drink scene is as varied as it is excellent. Discover fine wines in intimate dining rooms, sconch up with your neighbour in a deli or deli night café, enjoy seasonal local produce in award-winning restaurants or spend your lunchtime in the famous market, which draws attention from all over the world simply on the strength of its food alone.

visitnorwich.co.uk/eat-and-drink

Getting around
Norwich is a compact city and easy to explore on foot. For further advice visit the VisitNorwich Information Centre at the Forum, or call them on 01603 213999. When you’re out and about you can also look for the City Hosts, who are on hand if you need directions or information about the city.

Plus, Shopmobility is available at intu Chapelfield – call 01603 753535.

If you’re travelling here by bus, Norwich Bus Station is very central and there is an excellent Park and Ride service.

Norwich Train Station is also central with only a short walk to the sights. There are Pedalways, and bikes available to hire from the station (greateranglia.co.uk) or Ofo (search for the app).

You can find all city centre car parks marked on this map.

For a shopping experience that truly showcases Norwich’s unique identity, a trip to the Norwich Lanes is unmissable. Home to over 300 independent businesses, once you’ve finished browsing the shops take some time to visit one – or a few – of the many bars, pubs, cafes and restaurants here.

Where to visit
Norwich has plenty of attractions for visitors, ranging from the Medieval to the modern. The city has not one but two magnificent Cathedrals - one 12th Century Romanesque and the other 19th Century Gothic Revival, a Norman Castle, the Plantation Garden, four museums, several theatres, and captivating galleries such as the Sainsbury Centre for Visual Arts, and the South Asia Collection Museum and Shop.

For more glimpses into Norwich’s eclectic past, trips to the Mosque Quarter and St Andrew’s Tower, Down Cobbled Streets, and the Cathedral Quarter are essential, the Forum is a splendid example of 18th Century architecture, and the City Guilds Museum and Shop is fascinating.

For the first time visitor it’s worth taking a 90-minute guided walking tour or jumping onto the open-top City Sightseeing Bus to orientate yourself with the street pattern and history of this enchanting city.

Other must-see places include Norwich’s ‘most complete Medieval Street’ Elm Hill. Marble Hall, the Norwich Lanes, Riverside Walk and any of the city’s 31 historic churches.

visitnorwich.co.uk/explore-and-experience

Food & Drink
Norwich’s food and drink scene is as varied as it is excellent. Discover fine wines in intimate dining rooms, sconch up with your neighbour in a deli or deli night café, enjoy seasonal local produce in award-winning restaurants or spend your lunchtime in the famous market, which draws attention from all over the world simply on the strength of its food alone.

visitnorwich.co.uk/eat-and-drink

Getting around
Norwich is a compact city and easy to explore on foot. For further advice visit the VisitNorwich Information Centre at the Forum, or call them on 01603 213999. When you’re out and about you can also look for the City Hosts, who are on hand if you need directions or information about the city.

Plus, Shopmobility is available at intu Chapelfield – call 01603 753535.

If you’re travelling here by bus, Norwich Bus Station is very central and there is an excellent Park and Ride service.

Norwich Train Station is also central with only a short walk to the sights. There are Pedalways, and bikes available to hire from the station (greateranglia.co.uk) or Ofo (search for the app).

You can find all city centre car parks marked on this map.

For a shopping experience that truly showcases Norwich’s unique identity, a trip to the Norwich Lanes is unmissable. Home to over 300 independent businesses, once you’ve finished browsing the shops take some time to visit one – or a few – of the many bars, pubs, cafes and restaurants here.

Where to visit
Norwich has plenty of attractions for visitors, ranging from the Medieval to the modern. The city has not one but two magnificent Cathedrals - one 12th Century Romanesque and the other 19th Century Gothic Revival, a Norman Castle, the Plantation Garden, four museums, several theatres, and captivating galleries such as the Sainsbury Centre for Visual Arts, and the South Asia Collection Museum and Shop.

For more glimpses into Norwich’s eclectic past, trips to the Mosque Quarter and St Andrew’s Tower, Down Cobbled Streets, and the Cathedral Quarter are essential, the Forum is a splendid example of 18th Century architecture, and the City Guilds Museum and Shop is fascinating.

For the first time visitor it’s worth taking a 90-minute guided walking tour or jumping onto the open-top City Sightseeing Bus to orientate yourself with the street pattern and history of this enchanting city.

Other must-see places include Norwich’s ‘most complete Medieval Street’ Elm Hill. Marble Hall, the Norwich Lanes, Riverside Walk and any of the city’s 31 historic churches.

visitnorwich.co.uk/explore-and-experience...